DTX Email Validator

List of Possible Validation Results

EV Result Category	EV Result	EV Result Detail
Valid	200 | OK - Valid Address	The mail address is valid.
Valid	207 | OK - Catch-All Active	The mail server for this domain accepts the address, but it also implements a catch-all policy. For this reason, it is not possible to determine if a mail account with this name actually exists, without sending a message and waiting for a reply.
Valid	215 | OK - Catch-All Test Delayed	The mail server for this domain accepts the address, the Catch-All test returned a temporary error (API only).
Suspicious	302 | Local Address	The mail address lacks the domain qualifier. It may work locally within some organization, but otherwise it is unusable.
Suspicious	303 | IP Address Literal	The mail address is syntactically correct, but the domain part defines an IP address. This kind of address may work, but is usually only used by spammers, or for testing purposes.
Suspicious	305 | Disposable Address	The mail address is provided by a disposable email address service. Disposable addresses only work for a limited amount of time, or for a limited amount of messages.
Suspicious	308 | Role Address	The mail address is a role address and typically not associated with a particular person.
Suspicious	313 | Server Unavailable	The mail server for this domain could not be contacted, or did not respond.
Suspicious	314 | Address Unavailable	The mail server for this domain responded with an error condition for this address.
Suspicious	316 | Duplicate Address	The address is a duplicate of an address that has already been processed (batch processing only).
Suspicious	317 | Server Reject	The server refuses to answer to SMTP commands, probably because some very strict anti-spam measures are in effect.
